2018 Electoral Battle

JD(S) launches Assembly poll campaign from Chamundeshwari Constituency

Mysuru, Nov. 7 (PM,RKB& DM)- State JD(S) President and former Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) kicked off the party's poll campaign titled 'Kumara Parva-2018' atop Chamundi Hill this morning thus sounding the bugle for the 2018 electoral battle.

Kumaraswamy, accompanied by his wife Anitha Kumaraswamy, performed puja at Chamundeshwari Temple at around 8.30 am. Earlier in the day, former Prime Minister and State JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda, accompanied by his wife Chennamma, sought the blessings of the deity at the Hill temple at around 7.30 am.

Speaking to press persons after offering puja, Kumaraswamy said that the party's 2018 Assembly poll campaign has begun from the prestigious Chamundeshwari Constituency from where Chief Minister Siddharamaiah has said he would contest.

Pointing out that the party aims to win the magic figure of 113 out of the 224 Assembly seats and thus come to power on its own in the forthcoming Assembly elections, the JD(S) leader said that the people of the State will teach the Congress a lesson in the Assembly polls.

"The question of a coalition Government will not arise as the JD(S) will emerge victorious securing a majority of its own," he claimed. Replying to a question on rebel JD(S) MLAs, Kumaraswamy said he has chalked out a plan to find alternative candidates and thus the rebel issue would not trouble the party.

HC refuses stay on Tipu Jayanti

Says celebration does not violate any law and it is the prerogative of the government to celebrate or not to celebrate

Bengaluru, Nov. 7- The Karnataka High Court has refused to stay the State's Tipu Jayanti celebrations on Nov. 10. A Division Bench of the High Court, hearing a Public Interest Litigation (PIL) this morning, refused to stay the celebrations.

The PIL was filed by Kokkalemada P. Manju Chinnappa from South Kodagu challenging the celebration of Tipu Jayanti by the State Government. The PIL was heard by the Division Bench comprising Acting Chief Justice H.G. Ramesh and Justice P.S. Dinesh Kumar.

The HC said today that it would have intervened if the Tipu Jayanti celebration was against law. "Since it is not against law and constitutional provisions, we cannot interfere in the celebrations," the Bench said.

(See HC on page 9)

2016 HC order

It may be recalled here that in 2016 too, Manju Chinnappa had filed a petition against the celebration of Tipu Jayanti. Disposing of the petition, the then High Court Chief Justice Subhro Kamal Mukherjee had said that the celebration had to be contrary to law for them (the court) to intervene. This year too, the court cited the same reason and disposed of the petition.

Where are we heading to?

The country and its present generation, in the august company of its preceding ageing fraternity, appear to be elated on hearing about the legacy handed down from the past, earning flattering global rating on various counts, not to recount low rating on some counts which are common knowledge of those who are avid readers of dailies in their favoured language. The refined components of that rich legacy such as (a) Literary works of unquestionable merit of wisdom, in prose and verse, (b) Musical forms, both classical and folklore, (c) Exquisite sculptures at shrines luring devotees of different faiths, (d) Customs of daily life with proven scientific validity, (e) Monuments that are leaving their beholders bewildered, (f) Agricultural practises that have stood the test of time over several centuries, (g) The now-disfavoured joint family system with its inbuilt insurance against unexpectedly happening hard times causing trauma to surviving members, (h) The Gurukula system of moulding young minds into robust adults and so on.

The point that the value and merit of the aforementioned components of the legacy from the land's long past have got drowned in the cacophony of growing flock of misguided public speakers from different platforms addressing their adoring captive audiences cannot be disputed. Further, it is both gratifying and amazing that we often hear voices of learned people in many western countries acknowledging and also adoring those gifts bequeathed to us by our past generations systematically.

The media is unjustifiably accused of stoking unrest in society, apart from painting it a none-too-pleasing image to the world at large, forgetting that if the columns of front pages of dailies, barrings exceptions, didn't report the current all-too-familiar happenings with its all-too-familiar leaders of masses then the dailies would be published with blank columns. The argument that the readers of dailies at large, given their emotion-loaded obsession to read in bold print reports portraying scandalous events, scams indulged in by elected representatives in seats of power, various uncivil acts such as rape and laundering money to be spent on projects for the welfare of people cannot be held against the media. Let it be said clearly and loudly, if the citizens conduct themselves befitting their legacy, the media shall faithfully report on them.

The myriad measures, taken ostensibly for the overall good of the nation and its people by successive governments that have the tacit approval and acceptance of the people are currently outnumbered by the rallies against those measures, protests, road shows marked by anger and other forms of disapproval with mass participation prompts one to pose the question: Where are we heading to? There is no prize for the right answer!

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

GENDER BENDERS: Recently an ad for an eyeliner caught my eye. What's so eye-catching about an eyeliner ad? What was noticeable about this particular eyeliner was that it was a 'guyliner' – an eyeliner designed specifically for use by men. Apparently, guyliners are the latest thing in the growing range of cosmetics which were once the exclusive preserve of women. This makes me wonder if guys' eyes are so very different – in size, shape, bio-chemistry, or anything else – to require the creation of a special eyeliner meant only for them. Not so long ago, if the term 'blackhead' cropped up in male conversation it would be taken to mean a person with dark hair. Today, a blackhead calls for an immediate visit to the nearest beauty salon to have the offending excrescence – caused by dogged facial pores – removed by the application of mud packs, cucumber juice, and assorted lotions and potions. So far as I know, no one has yet come up with a male lipstick – a himstick, a hestick? – or a malescara, a mascara for men. But it may be only a matter of time before someone does. — Jug Suraiya in The Times of India.

Alien trouble, puts house on sale !

Phoenix: A sprawling 10-acre desert ranch in Arizona, has come onto the market for $5 million (USD). Located in the scenic Rainbow Valley just outside of metropolitan Phoenix, the ranch includes a 3.436 sq.ft. house is allegedly a constant stream of extraterrestrial traffic.

Owner John Edmonds has grown tired of fighting off aliens, and recently decided to put it up for sale. Edmonds claims that over the past 20 years he has been abducted multiple times, and has had medical experiments performed on him by the aliens. Edmonds claimed to have killed 18 extraterrestrials with a samurai sword during his time on the ranch. Their bodies allegedly disappear immediately upon expiring, hence he doesn't have any proof of their existence. He did post some photos on his social site, of scars he allegedly received in combat with the extraterrestrial beings. Because of the constant alien activity on this ranch, John Edmunds cautions any potential buyer to come and view it in person before making an offer.

The Skeleton Saint !

Mexico City: Her name is Santa Muerte, the folk Saint of Death, and she is the skeletal figurehead of one of the fastest growing religions in Mexico and Central America with an estimated 10-12 million followers. Devotees have begun incorporating the controversial saint into Day of the Dead celebrations, as both are thought to originate from the Aztec goddess Mictecacihuat, or Lady of the Dead, who reigned over a festival of death every year in August. Santa Muerte, the personification of death, is typically portrayed as a skeletal figure draped in robes and veils similar to those of the Virgin Mary. She is often depicted carrying a scythe. Her appeal, according to devotees, lies in her non-judgemental nature, as death brings a fundamental equality to all people. She is most often associated with protection, healing, and financial well being, and is the only female saint of death in the Americas. Santa Muerte is considered by many as the reincarnation of Mictecacihuatl, and her devotees are beginning to reclaim the Day of the Dead as her feast day.

Madhuvana Park needs Avenue Lights

Sir,

Madhuvana Park in Srirampura is one of the biggest parks in Mysuru. This lush green patch serves as a good lung space for many surrounding residential areas like Madhuvana, SBM Layout, Vivekanandanagar, BEML Layout, LIC Layout, Kandaya Nagar etc.

A large number of senior citizens, women and children come to this park for walking and relaxing. However, this park lacks avenue lighting. Walking in the park becomes extremely difficult and scary after sunset.

The walking track is fully dark at many places and corners due to thick foliage and shade of the trees. Only street-lights on the main road brighten up some patches of this vast park.

I have seen many alert senior citizens coming here with torch lights to aid their safe walking. It is an irony that the MUDA, which spends huge public money on many unimportant projects, has not provided basic lighting in this big park. Before any untoward incident takes place, the authorities should make up their mind to install lamp-posts along the walking track of Madhuvana Park thereby making it a safe place for tax-paying citizens.

Pay more for 48 trains as

Railways upgrades them to superfast

New Delhi, Nov. 7 - In a bid to revamp the cash-starved Indian Railways, the fares of 48 Express and Mail trains have been increased. According to the new time-table released on Nov. 1, these new trains have been upgraded to 'superfast' trains, simply by raising their designated average speed by 5 km.

However, no additional amenities are being offered to passengers travelling on these trains. Passengers will now have to shell out Rs. 30 for sleeper, Rs. 45 for second and third AC and Rs. 75 for first AC classes. With these increase in charges, the Indian Railways is expected to rake in Rs. 70 crore additionally.

The new superfast trains include Mumbai-Mathura Express, Pune-Amravati AC Express, Bangalore-Shivamogga Express, Pataliputra-Chandigarh Express, Darbhanga-Jalandhar Express, Rock Fort Chennai-Tiruchirapalli Express, Tata-Visakhapatnam Express, Visakhapatnam-Nanded Express, Delhi-Pathankot Express, Kanpur-Udhampur Express, Chhapra-Mathura Express, and Mumbai-Patna Express.

It remains to be seen if these new trains are punctual. Currently, even premium trains like Rajdhani, Shatabdi and Duronto Expresses run late on a regular basis. According to reports, 890 superfast trains ran late this year in the months of June, July and September alone.

In fact, a report by the Comptroller and Auditor General of India (CAG) observed that although passengers paid a superfast charge, the trains were not running at their designated speeds. "On test check, Audit observed that in North Central and South Central Railways, superfast charges (Rs. 11.17 crore) were levied and collected during the period 2013-14 to 2015-16 from the passengers on days, where 21 superfast trains did not attain the average speed of 55 kmph (on broad gauge) for a 'Superfast' train," the CAG report mentioned.

According to reports, the overall punctuality of trains is only about a dismal 73 %. A report mentions that speeding of some trains are done at the cost of slowing down of others. In some cases, trains have been slowed down just so passengers could have a convenient arrival time.

CRS completes track inspection of stretch near Srirangapatna

Mysuru, Nov. 7 (RK&BCT)- The statutory inspection of the pending 1.5 km stretch of Railway line near Srirangapatna — taken up as part of track doubling work between Mysuru and Bengaluru — was completed by the Commissioner of Railway Safety (CRS) yesterday.

Though originally scheduled to be held on Nov. 4, the authorities conducted a spot visit besides the track inspection, complete with speed trials and inspection of the two new Railway bridges, across River Cauvery.

Sources said the CRS inspection covered all technical issues besides observation of the curvature, points and crossings and no major lacunae have been found. All things being satisfactory, the authorisation for operationalising the track may be issued within a week. The inspection team travelled on the 1.5 km stretch of the track, laid upon the bridges of the two branches of the Cauvery River, to see how safe it was.

The works on a small portion of the track were delayed due to the presence of Tipu's armoury on the route. The armoury was moved physically, away from the path, to lay the new track. Even though the works on the track was completed a couple of months ago, it did not get authorisation, a process of getting sanction for operation of passenger services on the track.

The inspection team comprised Manoharan, (CRS) Southern Region, Ashok Gupta, Chief Administrative Officer (Construction), South Western Railways (SWR), A.K. Garg, Chief Bridge Engineer, SWR, Hubballi, S.K. Jain, Chief Engineer (Construction) and R.S. Saxena, Divisional Railway Manager (DRM), Bengaluru Division.

Consequent to the CRS approval for operationalising the track, the running time between Naganahalli and Pandavapura is expected to further reduce by about 7 to 10 minutes.

The CRS inspection also draws the track doubling work between Mysuru and Bengaluru to a close. While the Bengaluru-Ramanagaram section had been doubled earlier, the Ramanagaram-Mysuru section received administrative clearance in 2007 and the authorities took more than 11 years to complete the doubling work on the 93 km stretch.

Though doubling work along the entire section was completed in 2014, work on the 1.5 km stretch was pending owing to the 18th Century armoury belonging to the era of Tipu Sultan which was located along the alignment of the new track, causing the work to be stalled.

Following permission from the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI), the monument was translocated in one piece with expertise from the US in March this year, paving the way for completion of the second track as well.

The officials said, on the 140-km-long Bengaluru-Mysuru route, the electrification is done long back, up to Kengeri. The works on electrification is underway from Kengeri to Yeliyur. The works from Yeliyur to Mysuru would be taken up shortly, they said.

Neelamani Raju visited the Mysuru Rural Police Station that has been converted into a people-friendly Police Station and was impressed by its functioning.

Learning from the SP about the functioning of the Rural Police Station without expecting grants from the Government, she appreciated the SP's move to collect funds from the public in providing a library, visitor's lounge, a separate toilet for women, pure drinking water facility, and a garden in front of the Police Station.

Gonikoppal, Nov. 7- Miscreants have set fire to the house of Dr. Gowramma, a gynaecologist of repute at Gonikoppal in South Kodagu. Valuables including property documents have been destroyed in the fire.

The incident that occurred on the morning of Oct. 17 came to light yesterday when Dr. Gowramma who came home after visiting her daughter in Dubai. She returned to India on Oct. 17 and was staying with her another daughter's house in Bengaluru.

Neighbours who had witnessed the fire on that day had informed the Police and the fire was doused by Fire Service Department. The extent of the damage was ascertained only when Dr. Gowramma came home and told the Police that property documents were destroyed.

Fire experts who came from Mangaluru have said that electric short circuit was not the reason for the fire and have suspected that some miscreants would have broken into the doctor's house and would have set fire using some chemicals after robbing property documents.

Police said that miscreants would have entered the house through the back door. A case has been registered at Gonikoppal Police Station and samples of burnt objects have been sent to forensic laboratory for testing.

Abdul Karim Telgi, Harshad Mehta were geniuses of crime; But a philosophy evolved: 'Money is very bad, Sir'

Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

Abdul Karim Telgi's passing away should remind us that only in India are criminals so creative. Legends like Chicago's Al Capone and the Sicilian "families" of New York's gangsterdom got the limelight because of films and books. But they were run-of-the-mill killers and looters. No originality. Only in India did criminals develop the imagination to become Ministers and MLAs. The genius criminals rose above politics as well. To this group belonged Telgi and Harshad Mehta.

No two men could have been more different. Telgi, son of a porter, eked out a living by selling vegetables on trains passing through his native place in Belgaum district. But he showed his mettle by using his earnings to attend an English-medium school and eventually get a B.Com degree. Mehta was also born in a poor family. With his Gujarati business instincts, he was too impatient to go to college, preferring to get specialised education as a broker in Bombay. Telgi moved in middleclass circles as a struggling travel agent in Bombay while Mehta mixed with shakers and movers of a bustling business district.

Imagination soon started sending both men into similar trajectories. As a travel agent, Telgi had to procure various documents, from ID cards and mark sheets to visas and birth certificates. He developed short-cuts and some fake visas he issued landed him in jail in 1992. A jailmate educated him about the attractions of stamp papers. The Telgi imagination was set alight.

Harshad Mehta developed into a flamboyant, self-assured operator with the capacity to convince others about the charms of his dreams. He found mere brokering boring, but he also found unusual possibilities in the business. It is the nature of genius to see what others have not seen before, then pursue new goals with impatience.

When it became a rule in the 1990s that banks should invest a minimum amount in government bonds, Mehta's original mind developed what was respectfully described as the Replacement Cost Theory. It merely meant that he helped bankers meet their obligations and even make a profit on the sidelines by operating through him. It also meant that while the banks moved their moneys, some amounts always stayed with him for a short duration. He would invest that money in shares. In the most notorious investment he made, ACC shares jumped 4,400 percent from 200 to 900.

Small wonder that the house of cards came crumbling down one day. Mehta had acquired fancy homes and a fleet of several dozen fancy imported cars. All that turned into nothing when he was sent to jail. He died there in 2002.

The Big Bull was credited with a scam that ran into Rs. 5,000 crore. That was considered sensational, incredible, etc. To understand Abdul Karim Telgi's genius we must reckon that his stamp paper scam was quantified at Rs. 20,000 crore. There were subsequent reports that raised it to Rs. 32,000 crore. The unsophisticated Telgi's empire was six-seven times bigger than the urbane Mehta's. Limitless is the imagination of the gifted.

Abdul Karim Telgi

Harshad Mehta

The stamp paper lessons Telgi learned in jail offered much scope, thanks to the culture of stamped sarkari paper for everything: court fee stamps, revenue stamps, notary stamps, foreign bills paper, share transfer certificates, insurance agency stamps. These papers were bought and kept in bulk by banks and insurance companies.

Telgi went about it with the thoroughness of an inspired inventor. He acquired the licence of a stamp paper vendor from the Bombay Government. Then he acquired a specialised stamp paper printing machine from, who else, the Indian Security Printing Press in Nasik. The high-security press is not supposed to do such things, but in Telgi's case, technicians from Nasik set up the press, helped him get stocks of the special paper and special ink and even the same security marks as used in Nasik. Substantive help arrived also from politicians and Police bosses, among them a Maharashtra Home Minister, City Police Commissioner and other high-rankers. How come so many VIPs helped him? Meri Aan Meri Shaan Meri Jaan Hindustan.

When he was convicted in 2007 and transferred to Bangalore jail in 2015, Telgi pleaded guilty and said: "I am the only breadwinner in my family. I'm suffering from various ailments which have no cure" (AIDS, meningitis and diabetes).

He also spelt out a philosophy. "Money is very bad, Sir," he told an investigating official on his way to jail. "It makes a man as well as destroys him." This man would have made an inspiring political leader.

Tigress spotted near Jungle Lodges returns to forest

Forest staff and elephants to monitor situation

Forest officers examining the pug marks of the tigress.

H.D. Kote, Nov. 7 (Manju&KS)- A tigress which had strayed into Karapura Kabini River Lodge (Jungle Lodge) coming under Nagarahole Wildlife Sanctuary is said to have moved back into the forest.

According to sources, the tiger walked back into the forest in the wee hours of yesterday and its exit was tracked by the images captured in camera traps installed in the vicinity.

Forest Department Veterinarian Mujeeb Rehaman said that four camera traps were installed on the first day and four more were installed on Sunday to capture the movements of the tigress. Out the four camera traps, two traps had captured the footages of the tigress and the forest staff began search for the tigress, he said and suspected that the tigress had retraced its steps back into the forests.

Combing operation through boats

As River Kabini flows at the place from where the tigress might have gone back to the forests, Forest staff used boats to search for the tigress on both the banks of the river but could not find pug marks. The authorities then left some of their staff at the spot to monitor the situation.

It may be recalled that the tigress had sneaked into the Jungle Lodges premises in Antharsanthe range of Nagarahole National Park on Friday and combing operation was launched with two Dasara elephants — Arjuna and Abhimanyu assisting the forest staff.

Even camera traps were installed to monitor the feline's movements. Rapid action team also reached the spot, while a veterinarian, equipped with tranquillizer, was ready in case the situation warranted darting the animal. About 45 guests staying on the property for the weekend too were alerted and the area where the tiger was resting, was cordoned off.

Sources said that though the authorities have heaved a sigh of relief as the immediate crisis is over, the staff and elephants will stay put to monitor the situation.

City bags 'Trin Trin' National Award

Minister Roshan Baig is seen receiving the award at a conference in Hyderabad recently as Mysuru Mayor M.J. Ravikumar and MCC Commissioner G. Jagadeesha look on.

Mysuru, Nov.7(SP&NNN)- The Heritage City had lost the 'Cleanest City,' tag in the country last year. However, with its unique initiative of introducing the Public Bicycle Sharing System, 'Trin Trin,' the first of its kind in the country, has bagged a Special Award under the category of Non-Motorised Transport (NMT) Project instituted by Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs.

The award was presented to Mysuru City Corporation at the 10th Urban Mobility India Conference-cum-Expo 2017 and CODATU XVII Conference, held at Hyderabad from Nov. 4 to 6. State Urban Minister Roshan Baig, Mayor M.J. Ravikumar and Corporation Commissioner G. Jagadeesha received the award.

According to the citation, "This project has been selected for award based on the initiative for a tourist city to popularise NMT in the form of bicycles. It is a solely government-provided infrastructure with modern bicycle stations, smart card-equipped usage and lower rental fares making the system more attractive to students and daily commuters."

Mayor Ravikumar was ecstatic about the award and said that the Corporators and the officials of the Corporation would be motivated to provide a better system.

MCC Commissioner G. Jagadeesha said that Trin Trin as a concept was catching up in the entire country and this special award was very inspiring to extend the facility to other parts of the city and introduce more docking stations.

Directorate of Urban Land Transport (DULT) Special Officer N. Muralikrishna speaking to Star of Mysore over phone from Bengaluru, this morning said, "I am very happy that Mysuru has won the special award. Now, apart from introducing the facility in Bengaluru, which the Chief Minister himself is interested in, we will follow it up by setting up public bicycle sharing in other cities like Hubballi, Dharwad and Shivamogga."

"In Mysuru the facility will be expanded by adding 10 more docking stations," he said.

No docking stations in Bengaluru

There will be no docking stations in Bengaluru unlike in Mysuru as there is paucity of footpaths.

"It will be a docking less system. It will be much more sophisticated using smart technologies. QR code will be used to track the cycles and smart lock technology will be adapted by using mobile phones to lock handlebars," said Muralikrishna.

Muralikrishna said that in Bengaluru they are planning to introduce 6,000 bicycles in another 8 months.

2G Court defers hearing on verdict date to Dec. 5

New Delhi, Nov. 7- A special court in Delhi that was expected to announce the date for final verdict in the 2G spectrum allocation scam case today has deferred the hearing for December 5, 2017.

The key names involved in the scam include former Union Minister for Telecom A. Raja and DMK MP Kanimozhi. Special Judge OP Saini has been hearing the three cases related to the scam since April 2011. Two out of the three cases were filed by the CBI and the third by the Enforcement Directorate (ED). The judge deferred the hearing saying the judgment wasn't ready and it needed more time.

The scam relates to the granting of 2G spectrum licence allocations in 2007-08 which caused a loss of Rs. 1.76 lakh crore to the Exchequer.

A. Raja

Kanimozhi

The other accused in the case include former Telecom Secretary Siddharth Behura, former Private Secretary of Raja, promoters of Swan Telecom, Managing Director of Unitech Wireless Ltd, three senior executives of Reliance Anil Dhirubhai Ambani Groups as well as Kalaignar TV's directors.

The licenses were scrapped by the Supreme Court in 2012. Till now, 154 witnesses have recorded their statements which include Anil Ambani, Tina Ambani, corporate lobbyist Niira Radia and many more. The statements of the witnesses amass over 4,400 pages.

In another case filed by the CBI, the parties being tried are promoter of Loop Telecom Kiran Khaitan, husband IP Khaitan, Ravi and Anshuman Ruia — promoters of Essar Group, Essar Group Director Vikash Saraf, Loop Mobile India Ltd, Loop Telecom Ltd, Essar Tele Holding Ltd. and others.

The 19 people charged by the ED include Raja, Kanimozhi, Shahid Balwa, Vinod Goenka, Asif Balwa, Rajiv Agarwal, Karim Morani and Sharad Kumar. The case is in relation to money laundering operation in connection to the 2G scam. ED's chargesheet also includes the name of Dayalu Ammal, wife of M. UGC cautions Mysore University against granting affiliations to private institutes

Acting VC says courses fetch money to pay salaries for non-teaching staff

Mysuru, Nov.7 (RK&NNN)- Even as the University of Mysore (UoM), the century-old University awaits for the appointment of a regular Vice-Chancellor (VC), it is faced with more challenges. The University Grants Commission (UGC) has cautioned the University of action against the continued grant of affiliation to private institutes in the name of outreach centres and for franchising higher education.

The UGC, in a letter to the UoM dated Oct.27, asked the University to immediately withdraw the affiliation and submit an action taken report before Nov.10. If the University does not submit the compliance report, action will be taken, warned the UGC.

Speaking to Star of Mysore here this morning, acting VC Prof. Dayananda Mane said, "The UGC has written two letters earlier to us regarding this issue. However, the outreach programmes have been going on for a long time. We just cannot stop it in the middle of the year and inconvenience the students."

According to Prof. Mane, the outreach programmes are earning a revenue of Rs.15 crore and out of this, the salaries of the non-teaching staff are being paid. The Government's funds to the UoM is dwindling and it is being asked to become self-sufficient. "Hence, we had to find new ways to earn the revenue and support ourselves.

I have written both to the UGC and the State Government and am awaiting a reply from them," he said.

However, when SOM spoke to a Professor in the University who is closely associated with the outreach and specialised courses, he said speaking on condition of anonymity, "UoM has stopped the outreach and specialised programmes outside its jurisdiction from 2015 itself."

"We run both the outreach and specialised programmes. Both have separate Statutes. The outreach programmes are run just like the programmes run in the University, whereas in case of specialised programmes we give recognition to the courses not run by the University. For instance, Cancer Biology is not offered in the University and if an institute comes forward to offer it, then we recognise it," he said.

"Outreach programmes began almost 15 years ago when Prof. S.N. Hegde was the VC. He started it as the Government was forcing the Universities to become self-sufficient and the only option left was to start programmes where revenue to the University is generated," he said.

Then it was during the time of Prof. J. Shashidhar Prasad that it got a boost. But the then Registrar A.B. Ibrahim had taken objection to this kind of activity and it was during Prof. V.G. Talwar's time as the VC in 2008 that the then Higher Education Minister wanted new Statutes, which was done and the Governor's approval was also given, he recalled.

He pointed out that under the Karnataka State Universities Act provision no. (66), these programmes are being carried out. It has the approval of the Academic Council and once it was approved here, the Syndicate of the University had also passed it.

Since there were nearly 30 to 40 Centres opened in Delhi and Indira Gandhi National Open University (IGNOU) was opposing this, the then VC Prof. K.S. Rangappa and a few other University officials, after visiting Delhi and holding consultation with UGC, asked them to close it down as the UGC had asked the University to withdraw the affiliation, he said.

With regard to Sampoorna International Institute of Agri Science and Horticulture Technology, no one is clear about whether it is within the jurisdiction of the University or outside it, as the UoM can operate its programmes anywhere in Karnataka but not within its jurisdiction of four districts of Mysuru, Mandya, Hassan and Kodagu, he said.

Doctors to stage 'Belagavi Chalo' on Nov. 12

Mysuru, Nov.7 (NNN&RK)- The doctors and staff of private Hospitals and Nursing Homes, opposing the implementation of the Karnataka Private Medical Establishment (Amendments) Bill, have organised 'Belagavi Chalo' programme on Nov.12.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Dr. M.S. Vishweshwara, President, Indian Medical Association (IMA), Mysuru Chapter, said: "Nearly 250 to 300 representatives of IMA from Mysuru will leave for Belagavi on Nov.12 and stage a protest while the Belagavi Assembly Session is in progress."

He said that if in the Session, the Karnataka Private Medical Establishments (Amendment) Bill-2017 is passed, despite the protest, then they will have no choice but to give up the profession and this warning has been sent to the Government.

Dr. Vishweshwara said that they are holding a meeting this evening at 4 at the IMA office to discuss about the modalities of participating in the protest in Belagavi and they will follow the directions of the State IMA.

Meanwhile, reacting to the news in a section of the media that health services will be affected from Nov.12, Dr. Vishweshwara denied that the health services would be affected.

"Only a few doctors and staff from each establishment will participate in the strike. Hence, neither the full health services will be affected nor the patients sent home."

The amendment to the KPME Bill is likely to be placed on the last day of the Assembly Session on Nov.22.

Until then, a serial fasting will be held beginning from Nov.14, said State IMA President Dr. H.N. Ravindra.

As a last ditch effort, the IMA office-bearers will meet Chief Minister Siddharamaiah and Health Minister K.R. Ramesh Kumar and try to hold discussions with them, he said.

"What the doctors are opposing is not the complete KPME Bill but a few of the amendments that the Government wants to introduce. However, Ramesh Kumar is trying to project that the doctors are opposing the entire Bill," he said expressing his displeasure.

The IMA has been submitting memorandum regarding the amendments since the last nine months. But due to the adamant attitude of the Health Minister, the doctors are forced to resort to strike, he said.

It is the small and medium size hospitals, which are providing treatment to patients without any facilities from the Government.

The doctors themselves are the owners in nearly 80 percent of the hospitals." However, how right it is for Government to regulate and fix the treatment fees for different services?"questioned Dr. Ravindra.

According to the petitioner, Tipu was an invader and a dictator and glorifying such a person is a matter of shame. He added that it is an irony that the government wants to celebrate the birth anniversary of a person of this stature as he believed in the ethnical cleansing of the Kodava community.

It may be recalled here that on Nov. 3, the High Court had adjourned the PIL hearing to Nov. 7. Petitioner Manjunath had prayed the court to quash the government's circular dated Oct. 24 issued to celebrate Tipu Jayanti across the State, especially in Kodagu.

The petitioner alleged that Tipu had killed hundreds of Kodavas, and carried out conversions too. He prayed the court to give directions to the State Government not to celebrate Tipu Jayanti in Kodagu, the celebration of which might lead to law and order problem.

He claimed that during 2015 Tipu Jayanti, there were violent protests in Kodagu district and other parts of the State, resulting in a law and order situation.

NIE students prepare to make a mark at Formula Bharat-2018

Mysuru, Nov. 7 - Force Ikshvaku of the National Institute of Engineering (NIE) is Mysuru's first and only Formula Student team.

The team consists of over 25 undergraduate engineering students from all years of study, who start from scratch to design, fabricate and compete with their very own Formula style race cars.

The cars are designed and built entirely by students within the college campus.

With three years of successful participation in 'SUPRA SAEINDIA' under their belt and being placed as high as 7th nationally, they are now ready to take it up a notch above and participate in Formula Bharat-2018 at the Kari Motor Speedway in Coimbatore, scheduled for January 2018. The team has already begun fabrication of the latest iteration of their car.

Over the years, the team has grown in both technical and practical aspects of race car design. The team has begun to explore modern engineering practices such as the use of glass and carbon fibre composite materials, aerospace-grade lightweight aluminium alloys, and electronic engine control to mention a few.

Not compromising on the quality and performance of the car, an increase in budget was inevitable and, therefore, in addition to the support provided by the college and external sponsors, the team has opted to use social media as a means of publicity, and even launched a crowd-funding campaign online. They have set a target of Rs. 1,25,000, "All or Nothing", of which about Rs. 30,000 is required by the 23rd of November 2017.

The team hopes to have the car finished and running by the end of this month and follow up with two months of testing and tuning the car, and get themselves ready for the event.

Focus on MSD as India face Black Caps in T20 decider

Thiruvananthapuram, Nov. 7- Mahendra Singh Dhoni's batting position will be under spotlight as India aim to go for the kill against a gutsy New Zealand in the third T20 International despite weather threatening to play spoilsport.

The series is level at 1-1 and just like the preceding Australia series, where the series decider T20 at Hyderabad was a washout, there are chances that the 'winner takes it all' encounter against the 'Black Caps' could meet the same fate with forecasts of rain by the Meteorological department.

The Virat Kohli-led India team has been on a roll in recent times but has faced stiff resistance from an enterprising New Zealand, usually known to punch above its weight.

It will be nearly three decades (29 years) since the city witnessed an international match and it has become all the more significant after calls to replace Dhoni from the shortest format gaining momentum.

Former India great VVS Laxman in no uncertain terms has said that while Dhoni can still be a part of ODIs, it's time to groom someone new in the shortest format. While 49 off 37 balls with a strike-rate of 132 may not be all that bad but the former captain's inability to rotate strike during the past one year has been a cause of concern.

In Dhoni's innings, he had scored 26 runs in boundaries from five deliveries (3x6, 2x4) and managed only 23 from the remaining 32 deliveries, which is far less than run a ball. It will be interesting to see where Virat Kohli and chief coach Ravi Shastri slot Dhoni in the next game.

A school of thought suggests that Dhoni will be suited at No. 4 in case India lose early wickets as it will give him time to settle down. The Indian team's performance has been one of contrast in the first two games.

The visiting New Zealand side, which came into the T20 series as the No.1 ranked side, has since been displaced by Pakistan. The Kiwis, however, can regain the top spot by beating India in the final game. Captain Kane Williamson was happy after the team turned things around after the loss in game one.

The Kiwis have been competitive and lost the ODI series narrowly and proving to be difficult customers in the T20s too. While the batsmen have done well to counter the Indian bowlers, especially the spinners along with seamer Trent Boult have put their hand up when it matters the most.

Leg-spinner Ish Sodhi, who wasn't part of the original squad, has been a revelation and kept the India batsmen under check with his clever variations. B Boult rocked the host team's top-order in Rajkot, getting Rohit Sharma and Dhawan cheaply, which proved vital in the final analysis.

Newcomer Shreyas Iyer looked good during his knock of 23 but an indiscreet shot selection cost him his wicket. All-rounder Hardik Pandya has gone off the boil since the backend of the Australia series but the captain defended him. The hard-hitting Pandya won't mind a return to form in a high- stakes game slated later in the day.

The third and final T20 match will be live from Greenfield Stadium at Thiruvananthapuram from 6 pm on Star Sports Network.

Nice innovation by Dr Ravi, CEO ZP, Dakshin Kannada district, to have a @swachhbharat jingle play every time a doorbell rings in Kallige GP
6:00 PM · Nov 5, 2017

Tweet by Parameswaran Iyer, the Secretary of the Drinking Water and Sanitation Ministry, following the reports on innovative doorbell.

Mysuru, Nov.7 (SP&NNN)- The ringing of the doorbell normally announces the arrival of a person. The present day doorbells also have catchy tunes. Could this common device be used for something more useful? Yes, if you are a conscientious public servant.

This is exactly what the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the Dakshina Kannada Zilla Panchayat (ZP) and Mysuru's own Dr. M.R. Ravi has done by a simple innovation of fixing the doorbells with the Swachh Bharat jingle and trying to create awareness among the people about the importance of cleanliness.

He has composed a jingle with the cleanliness awareness message and this unique catchy jingle has gone viral on YouTube and social media. Not satisfied with the popularity of the jingle, Dr. Ravi was thinking of how this message could reach the people. He then hit upon an idea of incorporating the Swachh Bharat tune in the calling bells. He discussed this idea with Manjunath Bhandary, Chairman, Sahyadri College of Engineering & Management, Mangaluru, when he had gone as a chief guest during one of the functions at the College.

Bhandary, who was impressed with the idea of Dr. Ravi, discussed it with his Professors in the College and agreed to incorporate the tune in the calling bell. They showed the bell with the Swachh Bharat tune to Dr. Ravi. He immediately installed the bell with the jingle in nine chambers of his office.

Once, the idea gained popularity, he chose Kallige in Bantwal for the pilot project. The village consists of 1,127 houses and out of this, 1,123 houses, which have electricity connections, were fixed with doorbells having Swachh Bharat jingle. Sahyadri College and Ramakrishna Ashrama have taken up the responsibility of implementing this pilot project.

Since the Government does not have to spend any money on the project, Dr. Ravi has decided to write to the Government to implement it in all the villages of the district, as it has been a success.

Each doorbell costs Rs. 450. However, if it is produced in large quantity then the cost will come down, feels Dr. Ravi.

2.48 minute jingle

The Swachh Bharat jingle tune is of 2.48-minute duration. In order not to affect the continuity in the tune, it has been divided into four stages. The first ring Pallavi is for 24 seconds, the second one Charana for 28 seconds, the second Charana is for 32 seconds and the last Pallavi is for 42 seconds.

The music for the jingle, composed by Dr. M.R. Ravi, is scored by Mangaluru Akashavani's Rafiq Khan. Student Kirthan Holla has melodiously sung the song.

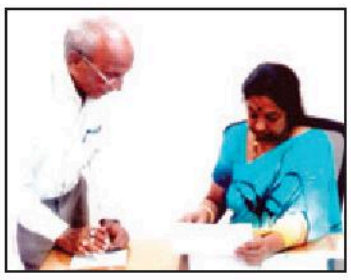
Gist of the song: The gist of the jingle to create awareness about keeping the country clean is penned by Dr. Ravi in five stanzas. The first stanza gives the call to people to keep the District shining like the Sun. The second talks about the problems of open defecation that women face in the country and the third calls for building toilets. The fourth asks the public to create a plastic-free district and to segregate dry and wet waste apart from highlighting about environment consciousness. The last stanza appeals to the people to cultivate cleanliness as a culture.

SC refuses to stay PETA plea to ban Kambala

New Delhi, Nov.7- The Supreme Court yesterday refused to stay a petition filed by People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA) seeking to ban a Karnataka Legislation that legalises Kambala, the traditional buffalo race. Animal rights activists have opposed the sport saying that tying the noses of the buffaloes with a rope and using whips on them amounts to cruelty.

It may be recalled that PETA had moved SC against Kambala and Jallikattu during February 2017 challenging the Legislation passed by both Karnataka and Tamil Nadu Assemblies for having allowed these sports.

Seniors Forum appeals for hike in pension



Minister Dr. Geetha Mahadevaprasad going through the memorandum submitted by Senior Citizens Forum Secretary R.M. Chetty.

Mysuru, Nov.7- Senior Citizens Forum has appealed to Chief Minister Siddharamaiah to implement a few welfare measures for senior citizens.

In a letter addressed to the Minister for Sugar Industry and Cooperation, Dr. Geetha Mahadevaprasad, Forum Secretary R.M. Chetty has asked her to approach the Chief Minister on their behalf to take up the following issues:

One is the enhancement of Old Age Pension from the current Rs.500 per month to Rs. 1,000 per month due to the poor economic conditions of the elders.

"This measure of enhancing the pension amount will be in line with the ones given to the senior citizens in Andhra Pradesh and Telengana," he has stated in the letter.

The other is to consider 58 years age for women to avail KSRTC bus travel concession given to senior citizens, just as in the case of Rail travel where women aged 58 years and above are eligible for concession, he said.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Chetty said that the Forum had written to the CM last year appealing him to lower the age for women from 60 years to 58 years to avail concession facilities for travelling in KSRTC buses. "Since nothing has been done in this regard so far, we have appealed to the CM again through the Minister," he said.

WORD OF THE DAY

Parable

Meaning: Short fictitious story that illustrates a moral attitude or a religious principle.

Examples: The priest opened his homily by relating the parable of the Good Samaritan, from the Gospel of Luke.

"Remotely based on the 1844 Hans Christian Andersen tale 'The Snow Queen,' a parable about faith and friendship, the movie ['Frozen'] retained only the central metaphor of a woman who can freeze people's hearts with her witchcraft." — Jesse Green, The New York Times, 15 Sept. 2017

Origin: Parable comes to us via Anglo-French from the Late Latin word parabola, which in turn comes from Greek parabolē, meaning "comparison." The word parabola may look familiar if you remember your geometry. The mathematical parabola refers to a kind of comparison between a fixed point and a straight line, resulting in a parabolic curve; it came to English from New Latin (Latin as used since the end of the medieval period, especially in scientific description and classification).

IDIOM OF THE DAY

Saved By The Bell

Meaning: Saved at the last possible moment.

Origin: This is boxing slang that came into being in the latter half of the 19th century. A boxer who is in danger of losing a bout can be 'saved' from defeat by the bell that marks the end of a round. The earliest reference to this that I can find is in the Massachusetts newspaper The Fitchburg Daily Sentinel, February 1893: "Martin Flaherty defeated Bobby Burns in 32 rounds by a complete knockout. Half a dozen times Flaherty was saved by the bell in the earlier rounds." There is a widespread notion that the phrase is from the 17th century and that it describes people being saved from being buried alive by using a coffin with a bell attached. The idea being that, if they were buried but later revived, they could ring the bell and be saved from an unpleasant death. The idea is certainly plausible as the fear of burial alive was and is real. Several prominent people expressed this fear when close to death themselves: "All I desire for my own burial is not to be buried alive." - Lord Chesterfield, 1769. Just as real were the devices themselves, several of them were patented in England and the USA. These were known as 'safety coffins' and designs were registered in the 19th century.
